BUBBLES BATHROOMS

This ensuite showcases an elegant, well considered design and use of materials. Entered via the walk-in robe, the freestanding bath and feature wall are positioned to visually balance the room and create the focal point of the space. Specifically built to three-quarter height, the wall allows natural light to filter through the window and illuminate the shower area. Designed to appear to hug the bath, the curved feature wall eliminates difficult to clean spaces often associated with freestanding baths. Tucked behind the wall is a floating cabinet housing cleaners and toilet rolls, leaving the vanity cabinets free for personal items. Poaching some space from the neighbouring powder room, the shower includes ample room for towels and allows the user to dry off within the wet area, thus minimising water tracking into other areas of the ensuite. The grey floor tiles balance beautifully with the matt white wall tiles, which together with the floating cabinetry create an illusion of space. This innovative design has created a spacious, clean and well-measured ensuite.
