RENOVATED BATHROOM
PROJECT OVER
$40,000

Opulent, elegant, warm and inviting: these were the client's key requirements for this bathroom renovation and the designer did not disappoint. The earthy and natural tones used for the tiling provide a tranquil feel. The large, relaxing spa bath is housed in a CaesarStone bath hob that matches the top of the vanity. The open shower, with its starphire frameless glass panel and stainless steel drain, is strategically placed in the corner. The shower and bath both feature niches that provide an ideal space for candles, and the stone matches the vanity. The reverse blind cleverly lets natural light in at the top, while maintaining privacy below. The judges described it as an "elegant, classical bathroom which is brilliant in the way it uses travertine tiles and mixed stone to create a luxurious resort-style feeling".

RENOVATED BATHROOM PROJECT $25,000 TO $40,000

The available space was fairly small, so the designer opted for an open shower, rather than closing it off from the rest of the bathroom. A stainless steel floorstrip drain diverts shower water away, while the use of glass maximises the feeling of space and creates a modern look. The spa bath was fitted into a fully-shaped and moulded Corian surround, which was fuse-welded to the Corian Omvivo vanity bowl. A floating set of drawers is fitted beneath to provide towel storage. LED lighting is used as a feature in niches and below the vanity to maximise the modern and minimalist feel.
